

An exploration of painting with acrylic paints and mixed media.

Acrylic paints lend themselves to mixed media by virtue of the flexibility to use them as you would any other painting material. We will play with different surfaces, add nature, collage, and textured with mark making and more. Start collecting materials that you would like to play with in your mixed media painting. There are no wrong materials!

- Acrylic Paints-I personally am addicted to Golden Artist Paints. They are pure pigment no fillers. Why is that important? The hue is true, you can use a medium to extend them without losing intensity. But any good acrylics will work. (Avoid craft paints they have lots of filler)
- Hues- of any brand you like:
- Hansa Yellow Light cool
- Hansa Yellow Medium warm
- Naphthol Red Light he bright, warm red
- Quinacridone Magenta The cool red for pinks and violet
- Anthraquinone Blue The warm blue or Ultramarine Blue
- Phthalo Blue (Green Shade) The cool blue
- Phthalo Green (Blue Shade) The cool green
- Titanium White The tinter 5 oz
- Satin Glazing Liquid
- Carbon black small suggested.
- Fluid Matte Medium
- Scissors
- Palette Pad or I like Flexible Plastic Cutting Mats I have used old
- plates, meat trays, Frisbees... Ice cube trays, disposable cutting boards.
- A variety of long handled brushes 4,6, 8 size flat or filbert
- A metal Palette Knife
- We will start with a small 14x11" inch canvas or canvas board
- Spiral bound sketchbook (small
- Soft pencil